

So this pain leaves me
And I can breathe freely
For a moment I can see
What happiness must be
And it burns so deeply
To feel now what you feel
'Cause the pain will return, see?

And all the pills of the world
Cannot drive out the hurt
Devastating my mind
I am none of your kind!
No I'm turning mad
And what makes me so sad
Is the anger I feel
For myself and for me
Because this pain show my weakness
And I can't defeat this.
So will you forsake me?
And watch this world break me?
Or will you stay by my side
To the day we all die?

And no savior will come
To escape we must run
Bue we stand here and shun
From this hope that is none!

Now you can understand
What it means to reach for a hand
To help you up when you fall
But noone answers your call!
